

Country Home Life Enjoyed By Eisenhowers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower are taking part in community life at Gettysburg, Pa., in a way that delights the townfolk.

The role they have played since recent completion of their new country home there is a restricted sort of thing, of course. In Gettysburg, though, they are getting around and becoming acquainted with many people whom they probably will learn to know much better when the President and his wife retire to their farm.

Go To Old Church

The President has given no indication whether he will seek a second term. But it's easy to see that he and Mrs. Eisenhower are taking more and more interest in their new home and in the community.

Sunday the Eisenhowers, regular churchgoers in Washington, attended services for the first time in Gettysburg.

They worshiped at a vine-covered Presbyterian church where Abraham Lincoln attended a patriotic service a few hours after delivering his Gettysburg Address Nov. 19, 1863.

Golf Links Handy

It was Mrs. Eisenhower's second appearance in downtown Gettysburg in four days. Last Thursday, there were surprised cries of "There's Mamie!" when she shopped at a grocery store and 5 and 10.

The President has begun playing golf at the Gettysburg Country Club, close by his farm. The members try to make him feel at home by keeping the routine as close to normal as possible when he is there.

He and Mrs. Eisenhower returned to the White House Sunday evening.

Series Of Bomb Tests Finished

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The longest, most diversified atomic test series yet held—14 blasts in three months—is over, but U. S. nuclear weapons today looked forward to an imminent underwater detonation off the coast of California.

The Pacific test will be held several hundred miles out in the ocean with the Navy in charge and, for the first time, apparently no top Atomic Energy Commission scientist on hand.

Surprisingly, Dr. Alvin C. Graves, the AEC's test chief, left for his home at Los Alamos, N.M.—and not the Pacific—at Yucca Flat, Sunday's closing blast at Yucca Flat.

Both Dr. Graves and Test Manager James Reeves hailed the 1955 Nevada series as "entirely successful" and "a major contribution" to the U. S. arms program.

From an AEC spokesman came an indication that the same winds which delayed the final test here probably had foiled the Navy's attempt to set off the underwater shot earlier. Many of the units of Joint Task Force 7, commanded by submarine warfare expert Rear Adm. C. M. Momen, are believed to be in position at sea for the test.

The Defense Department, announcing the test May 9, said it would take place "within a few days." The test area was described as several hundred miles from the closest land and completely clear of fishing grounds and shipping lanes.

Austria Celebrates Her New Freedom

VIENNA, Austria, (AP) — Jubilant Austria celebrated into the dawn today the Big Four signing of the historic treaty pledging her freedom after 17 years of hot and cold war.

Church bells pealed across the land as millions rejoiced. The pact makes Austria a sovereign state for the first time since Hitler annexed her to Nazi Germany in March 1938.

Troops Pull Out

Within 90 days after the treaty is ratified by the Big Four and Austria, some 70,000 troops of the United States, Russia, Britain and France will pull out and Austria's freedom will become a final reality.

Amid all the revel, there was an undercurrent of uneasiness over the little country's economic future. It was feared particularly that heavy payments to Russia might upset the economic stability attained with U. S. help during the 10 years of Big Four occupation.

There was also the realization that a series of economic crises might drive this central European country, pledged to neutrality, into Russian hands.

Viennese Cheer

Such disturbing thoughts and a drizzling rain did little to dampen the long-awaited celebration.

The bells and waltzes were set off Sunday when Russia's V. M. Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan, Secretary of State Dulles, France's Antoine Pinay and Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl signed the thick, leather-bound treaty promising Austria as far back as 1943.

A few minutes after the signing, cheers of 18,000 Austrians welled up from the streets outside Vienna's historic Belvedere Palace, where the ceremony took place. The great bell of 700-year-old St. Stephen's Cathedral pealed the joyous news. Churches throughout the Alpine country took up the call.

Later thousands went to the square in front of St. Stephen's for a mass conducted by Theodor Cardinal Inzinger. Others waited in Vienna's rain-drenched Ringstrasse to the music of street-corner bands.

Frontiers Restored

Similar celebrations were held in Linz, Salzburg, Innsbruck and

Nebraska Wife Is Mrs. America

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The selection of Mrs. Ramona Dietemeyer, of Lincoln, Neb., as Mrs. America 1955 should be a popular choice. Her strongest backers are among the 48 contestants she defeated for the crown of the nation's No. 1 homemaker at Ormond Beach Saturday.

Said runner-up Mrs. Billie Dorris, 27, of Nashville, Tenn.:

"She could not help winning; she has everything — poise, graciousness and beauty. And she looks and acts the part of a homemaker. I know her five children have the loveliest mother in the world."

Mrs. Kathleen Girvan, 32, the third-place winner from Chino, Calif., said, "I was for her all the time. I knew she had to be Mrs. America."

Blonde Mrs. Dietemeyer, 35, is a Sunday school teacher, choir singer and PTA president back home. Her husband Carl, 41, editor of the magazine Nebraska Farmer, is chairman of the Congregation of Christ Lutheran Church. They have five children.

Mrs. Dietemeyer set aside Sunday and today for rest after a week of competition over a hot stove and with the scrub brush against the top housewives of the United States.

Molotov To Quit, Newspaper Says

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The Frankfurt Abendpost quoted diplomatic circles in Vienna today as saying Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov will resign soon. It said Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan is ready to succeed him.

Abendpost, an afternoon paper independent politically, said Molotov's resignation had been decided upon in Moscow a long time ago but that his success in the Geneva talks on Indochina last year delayed it.

Abendpost added that Mikoyan was considered "the man of a new foreign policy course of the Soviet Union—coexistence by economic relations."

other Austrian cities and villages. Chancellor Julius Raab to the palace of 80-year-old President Theodor Koerner to relay the news. Koerner also received this message from President Eisenhower:

"The American people are proud and happy at the prospect of Austria being able to play its full part in world affairs with dignity, self-respect and freedom."

The treaty, finally signed after long years of East-West haggling, restores Austria's frontiers as they were before Hitler's armies marched in 17 years ago.

She is allowed an army as large as she likes and will be able to join the United Nations. But she is barred from foreign alliances and can allow no foreign military bases on her soil. She also must make no new merger with Germany and is committed to prevent the growth of any Nazi-like organizations.

The pact makes no call on Austria for reparations. However, she must pay Russia 150 million dollars for return of properties the Germans originally seized and the Russians confiscated, and must deliver 10 million tons of oil in 10 years for oil rights and concessions the treaty originally gave the Soviets.

Red Propaganda Seen Behind Jet Plane Crash Off Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist Chinese quarters today ascribed probable political motives to the first crash Sunday between Communist jet fighter planes and Nationalist air force Thunderjets.

The clash occurred near the Red China mainland 120 miles north-west of Formosa. The Red jets, which Nationalist pilots believed were MIGs, were thought here to have come from the new Red

Phone Tips Bring 5 Gambling Raids

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sgt. Vincent Serio of the Baltimore vice squad got a call from a woman who told him her husband was spending all his money in poker games and she was starving as a result.

Where was he? asked the sergeant. She gave him an address, and he dispatched two patrolmen to the spot. They broke up a card game, hauled six men to jail.

But the phone rang again. "You didn't get him," said the same voice, she explained she had learned that her husband had floated from the game before the police got there. She gave Serio a new address.

Off went the vice squad again. They broke up two games, took in nine players.

But the phone rang again. Same woman, same complaint, new address.

The next call brought in 13 more sporting gentlemen. It made a grand total of 25 players arrested in five card games.

The woman never did give the police her name, but Serio figures they got her husband in the last haul. She didn't call back.

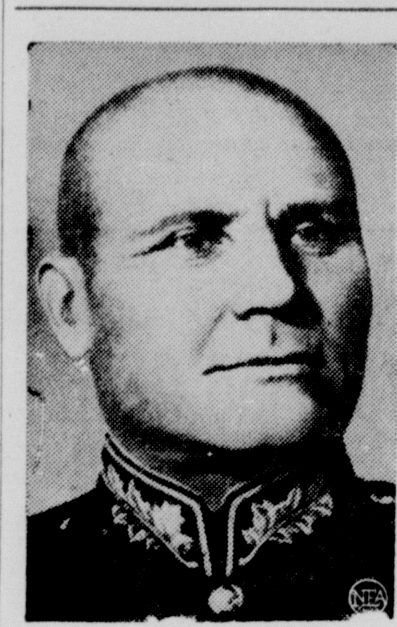

Honduras Puts Clamp On Press

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — The Honduran government has clamped censorship on outgoing press dispatches to check reports which, it says, might worsen "the present international emergency" with Nicaragua.

The government said Sunday night it had acted "because of certain false reports. . . by some press agents (correspondents) and the attempt of Mr. (Harvey) Rosenthal, agent of Time magazine, to send a message containing alarming information which might make more serious the present state of relations between Honduras and Nicaragua."

Rumors that Nicaragua might invade Honduras spread through the Honduran capital Friday as the government posted troops along the frontier following reported activity by the Nicaraguan national guard. The government said Sunday night the situation was not alarming and "soon everything will be settled in a friendly manner."

Democrats Skip Over Eisenhower Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas outlined today a legislative program proposing passage of highway, housing, minimum wage and other bills but ignoring several of President Eisenhower's major recommendations.

Johnson told reporters he will call the Senate Democratic Policy Committee together early this week to discuss a schedule under which the Senate may go to work late in the week on a Democratic substitute for the President's 101-billion-dollar highway program.

Pay Raises Included

He said he will ask Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), author of the substitute, to explain it. He said he will call on Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) to recite objections to the administration's plan of financing road building through a bond issue.

Besides the highway, housing and minimum wage bills, Johnson said he expects the Senate to approve bills for foreign aid, health research, draft extension, military reserves, pay increases and government workers, a House-approved bill to close tax loopholes, and the regular departmental money measures.

He said no decision had been reached yet whether action will be taken on a school aid bill.

Windup In August

Johnson's program apparently would ignore in the session presidential recommendations for a postal rate increase, Taft-Hartley labor law revisions, amendments to the immigration laws, reinsurance of private health plans, a proposed constitutional amendment to reduce the voting age and creation of a national transportation policy.

Republican Leader Knowland of California predicted in a separate interview that Congress will finish up the first week in August, and he said he hopes there will be a "good batting average" set on Eisenhower's proposals.

Adenauer Wins Ballot Victory

MAINZ, Germany (AP) — His greatest election victory in two years Sunday night bolstered Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's plans for speedy action on his program to arm 500,000 Germans for the Atlantic Alliance.

The state of Rhineland-Palatinate in elections Sunday gave the Chancellor's Christian Democratic Party unchallenged control of the State Parliament and a stunning vote of confidence in Adenauer's policy of friendship with the free world.

It was Adenauer's biggest victory since his party won a one-vote majority in the lower house of the Federal Parliament in 1953 national election.

The result Sunday clinched the Chancellor's vital two-thirds control of the federal upper house (Bundesrat), needed to ensure approval of the coming legislation to put rearmament into effect. Adenauer still controls 26 of the 38 Bundesrat members, who are named by the state government.

The Christian Democrats won 51 seats in the 100-member Rhineland-Palatinate legislature, the Socialists 36 and the right-wing Free Democrats 13. Neither the Communists nor the Nazi-style Free Voters' Assn. won a single seat.

Auto Crash Kills $3,400,000 Heir

JUNCTION CITY, Kan. (AP) — A 20 year old heir to $3,400,000 was killed Sunday when his car crashed into a bridge 15 miles west of Junction City.

John W. Baughman II was killed half of his grandfather's estate, appraised at $6,808,080 last December. It was to be held in trust until he was 35. Four nieces and a nephew now may share in the $3,400,000.

Baughman, a Kansas State college student whose home was at Liberal, Kan., was alone in the car. Officers said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Last Confederate Veteran Reaches 109

FT. BLACKMORE, Va. (AP) — Virginia's only living Confederate veteran has passed another milestone, complete with a three-tier birthday cake, a new hat and greetings from the President of the United States and the governor of Virginia.

"Gen." John B. Salling was 109 Sunday. He sat on the porch of the home he shares with his son-in-law and daughter and passed the time of day with the friends, visitors and well-wishers.

The peppery old gentleman, one of four survivors of the Civil War—three are Confederates—was decked out in a Confederate uniform given him several years ago.

Jittery Europe Sees Hope For Lasting Peace

VIENNA, Austria, (AP) — The Big Four foreign ministers started home today to begin preparations for the meeting this summer of their government chiefs.

Jittery Western Europe hoped the two major accomplishments of the ministers' weekend reunion in Vienna — agreement on the "summit" conference and signing of the Austrian independence treaty — had brought the West and the Communist world two steps closer to a lasting peace.

Invitation Accepted

Ranking Western officials hinted that Stockholm might be chosen as a compromise location for the meeting of President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and the British and French Premiers. July or August appeared to be the likeliest times. Russia had proposed Vienna as the site while the West advanced Lausanne, Switzerland.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov accepted the West's invitation to Bulganin late Saturday night. In a 13-minute speech Sunday at the signing of the Austrian treaty, he indicated the Russians in the coming high-level meetings will demand as their price for German reunification the same neutrality they exacted of Austria — a pledge not to join any foreign alliances and not to allow foreign military bases.

Menace Seen In Germany

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who last week brought West Germany into the North Atlantic Alliance, has already said his government could not accept such neutrality.

In his speech at Vienna's Belvedere Palace, Molotov expressed "conviction that other states also will follow the pattern" of Austrian neutrality. He referred directly to Germany later, asserting, "The danger of a reborn German aggressive militarism has revived, and it is forcing the peaceful countries of Europe to take new measures toward insuring their security."

The other foreign ministers — U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, Britain's Harold Macmillan and France's Antoine Pinay—confined their much shorter speeches entirely to Austria.

Aims Not Changed

Dulles was the first of the four to leave Vienna, taking off by plane Sunday night for Washington. He will report to the American people Tuesday night by television and radio.

Few Allied statesmen here believed the Soviets have changed their long-term aims. They consider the agreements reached with the Soviet resulted from Russia's desire to seek at least a limited reconciliation in international affairs.

Observers here consider the Soviets will use Austria as the model for a neutral belt of states they hope ultimately to carve from Scandinavia's neutral Sweden, south through Germany to Yugoslavia, and then across the sprawling Moslem empire to neutral India and Indonesia.

Union Resumes Pay Raise Talks

DETROIT (AP) — CIO United Auto Workers resume new contract negotiations today with General Motors Corp.

The talks, covering union demands for a guaranteed annual wage, pay boosts, pension improvements and health benefits, have been in recess for 12 days.

Similar talks with Ford resume Tuesday when Ford Local 600 is scheduled to begin taking its strike vote.

The 48,000-member local, largest in the UAW, will take eight days to ballot.

Strike votes at Ford and GM locals across the country were ordered by the union recently to strengthen its position at the bargaining table.

First returns from across the country have shown overwhelming support for a walkout if union demands aren't met by the time current five-year contracts expire — June 1 at Ford and June 7 at GM.

President Tito Says He's Not Changing Sides

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito has assured the West that his coming conference with top leaders of the Soviet Union does not mean Yugoslavia is "changing sides." He still intends to keep his country out of all blocs — Western, Soviet or neutral "third force," he declared.

Speaking at the North Adriatic port of Pula, Tito said Sunday he wants good relations with both the West and the Soviets. He promised there will be no secret deals "behind the curtains" at his meeting in Belgrade late this month with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev and Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Grateful To West

"The whole West will know what we have discussed and what we have agreed upon," the President declared. "Yugoslavia is grateful to the West and particularly to the United States, which has given and is still giving aid."

Tito restated his previous policy that he will not accept aid with political conditions attached. "Aid is not a bribe," he added. "They in the West should not think that we are changing sides," he continued. "We wish best relations with the West. We are not going to turn aside from this road, but we wish to have free hands to strengthen peace . . ."

It was Tito's first comment on the announcement Saturday of the Russians' visit.

Meddling Resented

Implying that Moscow had asked for the meeting, Tito said he told the Russians Yugoslavia wants to keep its friends and will tolerate no foreign interference in its internal affairs. He said the Kremlin had consented to this condition.

In breaking with Russia in 1948, Tito charged that the Kremlin was trying to dictate to him and that Soviet agents were meddling in Yugoslavia's internal affairs.

Many Western diplomats consider Russia in the conference will try to interest Tito in a policy of strict neutrality, similar to that imposed on Austria as the chief condition for Soviet agreement to sign the Austrian independence treaty.

Wife Is Hunted In Chef's Death

JAY, Okla. (AP) — Discovery of the decomposed body of a 310-pound chef touched off an extensive search today for his Auburn-haired wife, a one-time beauty contest winner.

Delaware County Atty. Don Hampton said the body was that of 41-year-old Joseph Werner, a former employee of the Triple X Restaurant in Fort Worth. He had been missing almost a month.

State Crime Bureau agents have radioed a pickup order for his wife, Leota, 44. She sold the family home for $4,500 three days after her husband failed to show up for work. She stated the two had been divorced and she had been given the house.

Fort Worth Detective A. C. Howerton, who inspected the residence, said he found two .22-caliber bullet holes in a back bedroom.

Werner's body was found on a vacant farm near here owned by Ralph DeGarmo, Oklahoma City, brother of Mrs. Werner. Unslaked lime was used to speed decay of the body.

DeGarmo said he had received a letter from his sister, written from St. Louis, in which she indicated she intended to destroy herself and ended with the statement, "If I am found it will make sensational news."

Fire Halts Mass In Chicago Church

CHICAGO (AP) — Fire interrupted High Mass in St. Vincent's Catholic Church Sunday but some 500 worshippers filed out quietly. No injuries were reported.

The Mass celebrant, the Rev. John Murphy, first noticed smoke behind the choir loft. He and the Very Rev. James Flannery, head pastor, halted services and ordered the congregation to file out.

Origin of the fire in the 80-year-old structure on the near North Side was not determined. Several thousand persons watched firemen fight the flames which spread along the peak of the church roof.

Father Murphy said damage may exceed $200,000. He said a $200,000 organ and nine "priceless" stained glass windows were destroyed.

Water Safety Talks Slated

Talks on swimming and boating safety will be presented to grade school children of Escanaba in a program developed by Art Petersen, city recreation director, with the cooperation of the U. S. Coast Guard and the American Red Cross.

Appearing with Petersen on the program will be Chief Harvey Ellsworth, officer in charge of the U. S. Coast Guard station at Escanaba. They will speak Tuesday and Wednesday in public grade schools of the city, and the program will be offered to parochial grade schools.

Chief Ellsworth will discuss safety in the use of small craft and Petersen will talk about safety in swimming. Throughout the talks safety will be stressed — safety at the waterfront, on rivers and inland lakes.

In Michigan last year 312 persons lost their lives by drowning, and of the total accidents 214 occurred while the persons were swimming and the remainder occurred in boating mishaps, Petersen reported.

Illustrative material supplied by the American Red Cross will be used by Petersen in his safety talks.

Romance Comes To Blind Couple

SOUTH PASADENA, Calif. — The "best one-armed dog driver" and his new wife are honeymooning today.

Kenneth E. Bruce, 30, married Mrs. Jane E. Eagle, also 30, yesterday at the Oneonta Congregational Church. Both are blind.

Mrs. Eagle said they met on a bus six weeks ago and Bruce later proposed while they walked their leader dogs on the nearby Ocean Park pier.

"He's the best one-armed dog driver I ever saw," Mrs. Eagle said. "He had one arm around me and the other on the leash."

Bruce's German shepherd Andy and Mrs. Eagle's collie Winnie sat outside the church during the ceremony and then were reunited with their owners at the reception.

Woodwind Quintet Gives Concert Here

A small but appreciative audience gathered at the William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium Saturday evening to hear the Chicago Symphony Woodwind Quintet. The presentation was thoroughly enjoyed by young and old.

The chamber group, regarded by critics as the finest musical ensemble of its kind in the United States, presented an exciting new concept of instrumental music with their artistry, enthusiasm and technical virtuosity.

These five outstanding musicians from the woodwind section of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra make it possible to enjoy the full beauty of the flute, clarinet, oboe, horn and bassoon both as solo and ensemble instruments. They revealed fine intonation and feeling for playing as a unit, while each member exhibited great skill and technique with his instrument.

The musical novelties of the concluding half of the concert program won the most enthusiastic response from the audience.

The evening concert was held in conjunction with a special woodwind clinic, conducted during the afternoon, for students and other musicians. Both events

North Carolina Senate Looks Ahead 30 Years

RALEIGH, N.C. — Southerners may stand accused of moving at an unhurried pace, but nobody is going to accuse the North Carolina Senate of wasting time getting started.

A resolution was introduced Friday to create a commission to plan the celebration of the 400th Anniversary of Sir Walter Raleigh's ill-fated lost colony at Manteo.

The anniversary of the landing is 30 years away.

Newspapers Hit All Time Record

Weekday newspapers circulation in the United States and Canada in 1954 again broke all previous records and established another new all-time high.

For the six months ending Sept. 30, 1954 the circulation of week-day newspapers in the two countries averaged 58,717,060 copies a day. This is a gain of 740,868 copies a day over the corresponding period of 1953.

"This unprecedented demand for newspapers," interprets the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, "is due to the overwhelming desire of people to know the news as only the newspaper reports and explains it. This means that advertising in newspapers reaches more people than ever before."

Letters To The Editor

Dangerous Junction
EDITOR
Escanaba Daily Press

Dear Sir:

The safety problem at US-241 in Rapid River still hasn't been corrected. Who is going to act on this serious situation? I have lived here less than two years and I feel that someone who has lived here longer or perhaps is a native should start proper procedures to erect some type of safety flashing signals.

I have studied the situation carefully at the junction for the past month and firmly believe a flashing signal alone is not adequate. There is the problem of merging traffic. (I had a close call coming from Marquette about two weeks ago). Chicago has "Caution Merging Traffic" reminder signs on Lake Shore Drive. Are the lives in the Windy City more precious than in our community that we can't spend a few dollars and perhaps prevent a tragedy?

Another problem facing our community is the children coming home from the drive-in theater late at night. If some type of light could be erected to flood the area outside of the theater near the road perhaps the near tragedy that happened on Friday the 13th could have been prevented. I was the third car in back of the one that hit the young Stenlund lad and it could well have been me that struck him.

Exactly one month to the day the Stenlund boy was injured the last accident happened at the junction.

None of us are immune from making mistakes but something more prominent than just "Junction Ahead" and "Stop Ahead" could be erected to remind us of the dangerous intersection that confronts us at the junction of US-241 at Rapid River. Somebody act before we mark another traffic death in Delta County's record book because of human laxity and unconcern. I have talked to a number of natives and even they are scared to death of the junction.

Think of the strangers that visit our beautiful country and are unaware of the danger that moves up on them so quickly.

Think about it and act some-

White Pine Days Plans Progress

ONTONAGON — Plans for White Pine Copper Days, June 9-10, and Morris F. LaCroix Day, June 11, have moved into high gear with all 20 committees of the celebration at work. The project is the largest of its kind ever undertaken in this part of the Upper Peninsula.

The four chief objectives of the project, says Lawrence P. Walsh, general chairman, are to welcome the new copper mining community of White Pine to the area, to acknowledge the importance of the White Pine mine to the local economy, to honor those who have contributed to the rebirth of copper mining here and to express public appreciation to Morris F. LaCroix, president of the White Pine Copper Company, who is chiefly responsible for the White Pine development and who instituted a forest management program for the timber holdings of the Copper Range Company.

A budget of $10,000 is planned and a parade which will be a highlight of the celebration will have for its theme "This Ontonagon Country" and its units will depict, in historical sequence, the development of mining and lumbering, the area's chief economic supports.

The U.P. Development Bureau Tackles Industrial Promotion

On Washington's Birthday in 1911 a group of several hundred men from all the counties of the Upper Peninsula gathered in Menominee and created the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau. It was dedicated to the promotion of the economy of the Upper Peninsula, which was called "Cloverland" in the hope that it had a great future as an agricultural area.

The Bureau was born in doubt and owes its existence to a group of adventurous men who believed that by banding together they could gain a stronger expression of their individual beliefs that intelligent, hard work could develop the Upper Pen-

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

A few weeks back this column had occasion to quote a letter from a reader who was sharply critical of the pronouncements used by many radio and television broadcasters. Most especially she aimed her fire at the CBS staff which includes such notable newscasters as Edward R. Murrow, Howard K. Smith and Ned Calmer.

My correspondent had noted at least one slip of the tongue by each of these men and went on to draw the unwarranted conclusion that the networks are consciously tolerating sloppy diction. I noted my regret that she had chosen CBS as the prime target of her attack, since this network was the first to engage a top-ranking speech authority to monitor the efforts of their staff announcers. Further, it seemed to me that due allowance should be made for accidental mispronunciations resulting from the pressures under which these men work.

Now comes word from Dr. W. Cabell Greet who is still, I'm pleased to report, speech consultant to CBS—as well as head of the English department at New York's Barnard College. He points out how such minor mispronunciations come about. "We must remember," he writes, "that our broadcasters are not actors but a new kind of journalist. Even as you and I, they will make errors of utterance due to accident, not to ignorance. And, as speakers of English, they may shift an accent to secure emphasis. This shifting is idiomatic and is within the realm of taste. It certainly can be overdone, but the idiomatic characteristics of English are the birthright of us all. Notice, for instance, the shift of accent on the word 'thirteen' in these two sentences: 'The boy is thirTeen' and 'there are THIRteen boys.'"

A good point well made, Dr. Greet. And I share your admiration for Murrow, Smith and Calmer as "models of intelligent, responsible and vocally effective broadcasting." But I'm sure you wouldn't extend that accolade to at least two other CBS luminaries, Arthur Godfrey and Ed Sullivan—or are they "personalities" rather than "broadcasters" or "announcers" and hence afforded full license to mutilate the language?

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

Movie premieres are jam-packed with synthetic excitement, whipped up by the press agents, plus hundreds of young goons who do all but tear the star's gowns off their backs as they fight their way into the theatre. The klieg lights turn, the bands play, the TV announcer uses the word "wonderful" two hundred times a minute and the invited guests rave about the picture more on the way in than they do after it's been shown.

To John Crosby, a high in affairs of this sort occurred when Vivian Leigh arrived in Atlanta for the premiere of "Gone With the Wind." As she alighted from the train, a band was rendering "Dixie."

"How darling of them," she purred. "They're playing my song!"

The Doctor Says ...

Doctor Discusses Blood Disorders of Feet and Legs

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Two disorders of the blood circulation involving the extremities can well be discussed together. These are Buerger's disease and Raynaud's disease.

In Buerger's disease there is a true inflammation of the blood vessels, particularly those in the feet and legs. In time the disease may cause complete blockage of blood flow through such blood vessels. The disappearance of the normal pulsation or beats of the blood vessels in the affected limb is characteristic. It is much more common in men than women.

Although the cause is not definitely known, tobacco, infection, ringworm, and a chemical poison known as ergot, seem to play a part, sometimes, at least. It has been reported, for example that eating large amounts of rye bread can cause the disease probably because this sometimes contains significant amounts of the fungus, ergot.

Victims of Buerger's disease are not all treated alike. The most important features of treatment however are absolute avoidance of tobacco, removal of any sources of infection, and a good intake of fluids and salts. In the more serious cases the use of drugs to prevent coagulation of the blood and some other forms of medical management may be useful. Good results also have been reported with a machine applied to the leg which will vary the pressure on the blood vessels something like that of a milking machine. Surgery may be advisable. When the blood supply has been cut off to a toe, for example, the entire toe may have to be removed.

In Raynaud's disease, the blood supply to a particular part is not cut off entirely but the blood vessels affected go into spasm and contract, especially when exposed to cold. An emotional upset may act the same way as cold but the basic cause is not known.

Raynaud's disease is most common in the hands and consequently the fingers often turn white when put in cold water or when anything else happens which produces a contraction of the blood vessels. Exposure to cold, emotional upsets, and like factors which bring on the symptoms should be avoided. Tobacco must be prohibited permanently.

In reply to E. S., who asks whether it is possible for a patient with Raynaud's disease to be cured by relaxing and resting as much as possible, it should be said that this will probably not be enough though the relaxation and resting should help together with other forms of treatment.

Although several good treatments are available there is none yet which can be considered a sure cure. In Raynaud's disease, surgery can be useful, although amputation is rarely necessary. More often surgery is aimed at the sympathetic nervous system with the purpose of relaxing the spasms in the blood vessels. This operation is known as sympathectomy.

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The Kremlin has seen to it that not even for one day did the Western allies stand alone in the limelight as the champions of peace by negotiation. At the moment the West was publishing its invitation to a meeting at the summit, the Soviet Union published, in the form of a resolution for the United Nations, an elaborate series of proposals for peace and the reduction of armaments. The allies have been talking for a long time about the invitation they have now sent to Moscow and manifestly Moscow has been preparing its document for a long time. The publication of the two texts within the same twenty-four hours shows that if East and West are agreed on nothing else, they are agreed that there is now in the world an insistent popular demand that war must be avoided.

There has come up, comparatively recently, a new political force with which all the governments have learned that they must reckon. It is a feeling which is not merely the ordinary popular war-weariness and dislike of the horrors and costs of warfare.

Something new has happened. That something is the revolution in the technology of war. Churchill was the first among public men to realize the consequences of this military revolution, and two years ago he started acting upon it in his epoch-making speech of May 11, 1953. It was in that speech that he called for "a conference at the highest level." A few months later the President had realized what had happened, and in his speech last autumn (Oct. 19, 1954) he summed up his conclusions in a sentence which may well prove to be the utterance for which he will always be remembered: "Since the advent of nuclear weapons, it seems clear that there is no longer any alternative to peace." In recent times this view has taken hold of the masses of mankind. To this view all the governments are now responding.

The popular demand, which is most specific in Europe, for a meeting at the summit is an expression of the feeling that nuclear warfare is intolerable. If we take the matter of that view, we may ask what the chiefs of government can do about it that the Foreign Ministers, who are less hurried and better informed, could not do at least as well. The answer is, I think, to be found in a popular feeling that above the hard specific issues that the Foreign Ministers deal with so slowly and so inconclusively there is the over-riding question of whether these issues are to be settled with nuclear weapons. There is a worldwide feeling that this ultimate question can be resolved only by the highest authorities of the governments of the greatest of the powers.

The Foreign Ministers and the diplomats tend by their professional habits to think of peace as an edifice which has to be built brick by brick, agreement by agreement, upon carefully prepared foundations. The popular view, which is now in the ascendant, is that the edifice will never be built at all unless the ground on which it is to stand is cleared by a general agreement which reduces radically the danger of war. As long as that danger is as great as it is today, every kind of negotiation will be thought of as appeasement and every concession as a surrender. The popularity of a negotiation at the summit derives from the belief that Bulganin and Eisenhower face to face may do something for peace which Molotov and Dulles will not, which Molotov and Dulles dare not do.

What can that something be? From the summit, let us remember, the details are invisible and only the biggest things on the landscape can be seen. Can we fine in the Soviet proposals published on Wednesday a clue to what in fact they wish to talk about at the summit? Their document is a compilation of all sorts of things, of proposals trading points, propaganda, and the kitchen stove. But I think that it contains also an indication of the kind of East-West bargain that the Kremlin is most interested in.

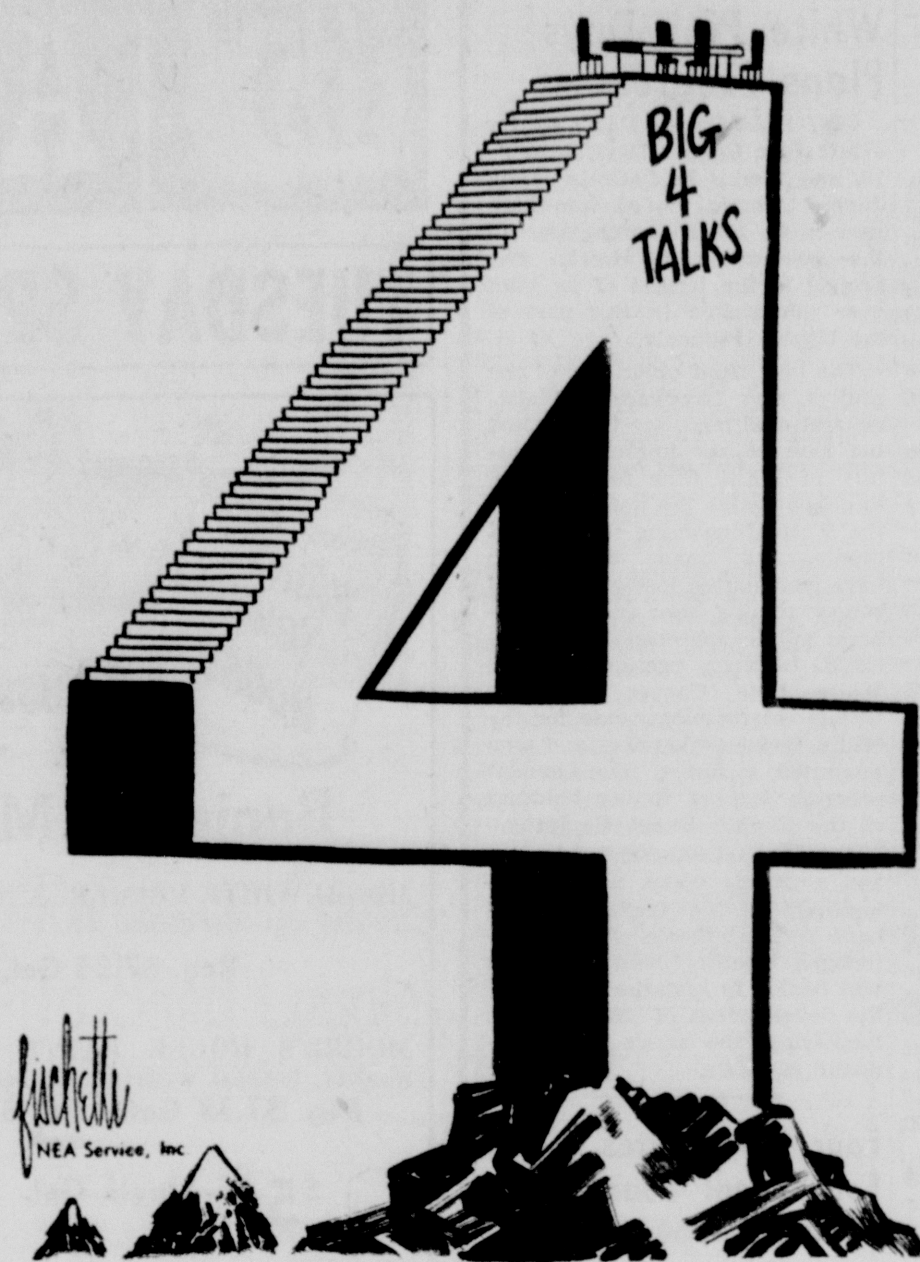

In section 3 of the Soviet resolution they propose that "except for strictly limited contingents of troops left temporarily on the territory of Germany pending the conclusion of an agreement on their full withdrawal" there should be "the immediate withdrawal by the four powers . . . from the territory of Germany to their national frontiers." If these words mean what they say, they propose a withdrawal of the Red Army not merely across the Oder-Neisse Line into Poland but back into the Soviet Union—if the American forces are withdrawn from the continent of Europe.

Section 4, which follows immediately, makes more specific what the Soviets have particularly in mind. They want "the dismantling of military bases on foreign territories." We may read this to mean not the destruction of the air bases in Europe but the transfer of these bases from the American Air Force to the nations on the continent where the bases are. This, judging by Marshal Zhukov's recent speech, is the American withdrawal which they are most interested in and the price they are offering for it is the withdrawal of the Red Army not only from Germany but from the satellite empire.

We must not misunderstand this, and jump to conclusions. This is what they are proposing and not what they would settle for. What we are seeing, I think, is in dim outline the propositions on which they will try to negotiate at the summit. I venture to think this because it has for so long been the view of men abroad, whose judgment I have found the most discerning and reliable, that if an when the real East-West negotiation began, the subject matter would be the recession of the Red Army and of the American Air Force from their most advanced positions.

Such a recession was not a negotiable proposition so long as the recession of American forces meant leaving behind a military vacuum. It may well have become a negotiable issue, or be by way of becoming one, in so far as the national forces of the European continent are deemed capable of manning and maintaining the advance bases.

A Long Way Up---And Down

Air Force Learning Fast How To Live With Atomic Weapons

INDIAN SPRINGS AIR FORCE BASE, Nev.—(NEA)—The Air Force is fast learning how to live with atomic weapons.

And a significant part of this knowledge comes from a wax-coated pill about half an inch in diameter which Col. Ernest A. Pinson and Capt. Charles S. Oldfield swallow for each atomic explosion.

Actually, they only half-swallow it for a few hours, because there's a thread which suspends it in the exact center of their stomachs. The end of the thread hangs from their mouth and when the test is over they haul the pill out.

To Pinson and Oldfield, the business of removing the pill is the real hazard of their work.

The fact that they also fly through the firm cauldron of an atomic cloud a few minutes after detonation — a feat previously considered suicidal—doesn't bother them at all.

"The first time I took the pill it was easy," says Oldfield, "but each swallow and pull-out since has become more difficult and if there's any courage connected with our work, this is where it's needed."

In the excitement of flying through a cloud once, Pinson Chomped through his thread, delaying the results of the test for two days.

Inside the pill are tiny sheets of photo-sensitive paper which reveal the exact dose of radiation received. Among other things, an analysis of the paper in the pill after a test tells exactly how much radiation has penetrated the body.

The full scope of this work, directed by Col. Pinson, is to come up with some answers on such problems as how mechanics can work on contaminated planes, how dangerous it is to pilots to fly through atomic clouds, and how much radiation is collected on the surface of planes.

Before this series of atomic tests a plane with human passengers was permitted to enter an atomic cloud not earlier than an hour after detonation. Pinson and Oldfield have been doing it in less than 15 minutes.

The results received on the first dozen shots of this series, tagged "Operation Teapot," are secret. But the fact that the two fliers haven't been grounded indicates that their work has proven less dangerous than previously expected.

Pinson and Oldfield have actually been passengers in two-seater T-33 jet trainers. The pilots who have flown them are Lt. Dalton W. McCullar of Courtland Miss., Lt. John M. Rowan of Kaw, Okla., and Lt. Floyd H. Patterson Jr., of Beaumont, Tex. They do not take pills but wear film strips on their T-shirts.

The routine of a test goes something like this:

This field, where most of the Air Force support of the atomic tests is based, is only about 50 air miles from the point of bomb detonation. Thus the fliers in this phase of the tests only have to get up three and one-half hours before shot time.

Before take-off, Pinson and Oldfield double-check the array of radiation-detection instruments scattered all over the plane. Some involve the film ex-posure technique. Some are electronic.

Pills are swallowed and weather checked about half an hour before take-off. The planes circle clockwise while waiting for the blast and have a fixed point in space which they must occupy when the bomb goes off.

Within 15 minutes after detonation the darkest part of the boiling cloud is selected as the point of penetration and one after another the T-33s dive into it. In a few seconds the planes are, through the cloud and about 20 minutes later they are on the ground.

Passengers and pilots are lifted out by a crane arrangement so they don't touch the "hot" sides of the planes. They're measured for radiation and if they've had too much they must destroy their clothing and take a shower. They've had to take a shower once.

Then they take their pills out of their stomachs, collect data from the other instruments, and the data analysis begins.

"That's about all there is to it," Oldfield says, as though describing a simple high school chemistry experiment.

He'll Wrap Anything, Even A Helicopter

OAKLAND, Calif.—(NEA)—If you were to ask Norman Burkheim, "Wrap it up please," you might need a truck to haul it away. Then again, Burkheim would probably wrap the truck for you as well.

Since the 54-year-old, San Francisco-born Burkheim began wrapping things during the war, he's literally packaged everything from "a feather to a locomotive."

Like most unusual enterprises, Burkheim's was born of necessity. Because 87 per cent of all material shipped into the Pacific (U. S. Navy estimate) in the first year of World War II was destroyed due to faulty packing, Burkheim's career in packing was launched. Since then his loss because of packaging has been less than one-tenth of one per cent.

For the Office of War Information, under direct Presidential command, Burkheim used highly technical methods to pack electronics equipment together with complete radio stations and towers.

One of his outstanding packing jobs was the delivery of over 300 tons of material to a jobsite 700 miles up the Yangtze River in China without loss or damage.

His plant, now called Pacific Ports Industries, covers 5 1/4 acres and employs an average of 200 people. Facilities include a complete box-making and wood-working factory.

As well as wrapping hundreds of items for the Government, Pacific Ports packs all products for the University of California Radiation Laboratory at Livermore, Calif., which is contracted to the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission. They also wrap helicopters and parts for the Armed Services as well as shipping them commercially for Hiller Helicopters to all parts of the world. They have just completed shipping the 20th helicopter to the Police Department of Bangkok, Thailand. The Bangkok police use the ships for crowd dispersal and border patrol.

Because it would take almost two hours to truck a 'copter from the Hiller plant in Palo Alto, pilots ferry the snips across San Francisco Bay in 15 minutes, dropping the "whirly-birds" right in Burkheim's back yard.

They are immediately dismantled and wrapped in parts. Cockpit, motors and tail sections are specially vacuum-wrapped and separately crated. One 'copter takes three huge boxes, with 50 pieces being individually wrapped and preserved.

Because metal parts, such as bearings, have been known to be ruined by acid from a human fingertip during shipment, Pacific Ports maintains a fingerprint removal department. They also use such unusual-sounding pieces of equipment as vapor degreasers and derusting tanks.

Burkheim's life has been as unusual as the business that now occupies his time. During World War I he joined the French Army and saw service with an air squadron as a buck private. When the U. S. entered the fracas he transferred to Pershing's forces—still a buck private.

But now he's all wrapped up in his big business. He may not use fancy ribbons like the girl in the department store but if you say, "Wrap it to last 10 years," 10 years later it'll be as good as new.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA) Public Health Service clearance of the Salk polio vaccine will leave everything just about as it was a couple of weeks ago—but only after a terrible hubbaloob.

The question many medical authorities are now asking privately is whether all this excitement could not have been avoided by exercising the precautions normally used before any new drug or treatment is approved.

So far only one organization—Council of the California State Medical Assn.—has dared criticize the lack of scientific discussion before the polio vaccine was released.

The careful, step-by-step scientific papers were not released the great body of American virus experts for checking. There was considerable secrecy in its development. It culminated in the ballyhooed announcement April 12 when everybody climbed on the bandwagon of approval, including the usually slow-moving American Medical Assn. itself.

AMA in its 1954 convention had criticized "voluntary health organizations" for not consulting state and county medical societies before planning national tests of new drugs and methods.

It is now being pointed out that fewer than 18 months have elapsed since Dr. Jona Salk announced that polio vaccine could be tested through mass inoculation of children.

This announcement was made after only four years of research on a National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis grant to University of Pittsburgh Virus Laboratory.

The first children were inoculated in Pittsburgh, February, 1954. A month later Doctor Salk announced that the vaccine might give lifetime immunity to children.

Dr. Albert B. Sabin of Cincinnati said it had not been chemically tested long enough to make sure that it was safe.

Nevertheless, that summer tests were made on 1,800,000 children in 44 states. Only a month has elapsed since University of Michigan Evaluation center announced these tests were 80 to 90 per cent effective, and mass inoculation was begun.

By contrast, medical authorities point out that penicillin was kept under careful control all during the war before it was made generally available. And 60 years were required to perfect diphtheria antitoxins safe enough for the first national immunization drive in Great Britain, 1940-42.

It is admitted that laboratory techniques today are far more effective than in the previous half-century.

Also through organizations like the March of Dimes, more funds are available for public education campaigns and concentrated research attacks against specific diseases.

In spite of these factors, the chronology of the war against diphtheria is cited for contrast to the hurried-up development of the polio vaccine.

The diphtheria bacillus was first identified by the German scientist Klebs in 1883.

By contrast, scientists today don't know what causes infantile Paralysis, or poliomyelitis. They don't know how it is transmitted. They have identified three main types of the disease and they know it is more prevalent in summer.

Part of today's confusion is caused by attributing to medical scientists more knowledge of the disease than they have.

The first diphtheria antitoxin was discovered in 1890—seven years after the bacillus was identified. One woman patient in Berlin was treated with this antitoxin the next year. She recovered.

Dr. William H. Parks of the New York City Health Dept. developed methods for large-scale production of the diphtheria antitoxin in 1933.

Dr. Abraham Jacobi used this serum to treat the disease in the New York slums, where it was rampant and often accompanied by scarlet fever. Jacobi fought the frequent epidemics against the threat of physical violence to himself. The treatment didn't always work. This was ten years after discovery.

It was another five years before methods for making a nontoxic injection were discovered. It was 1904 before horses were successfully immunized against diphtheria in Vienna.

And another five years went by before it was first suggested that diphtheria antitoxin be used to immunize children.

Many improvements were made in the serum over the next 20 years, and methods were perfected for its purification. But even today diphtheria serum is regarded as only 90 per cent effective.

By contrast, the Salk polio vaccine is rated only 60 to 90 per cent effective. Doctor Salk himself has said that it can be improved. To expect perfect results so soon is too much.

Says Dr. Leonard Scheele, Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health Service: "The government will not sacrifice safety to gain mass inoculation."

There's something the matter with the boy who doesn't cut his feet or get stone bruises during summertime.

Industrialist To Speak At Tech

HOUGHTON—Sir James Dunn, Canadian industrialist whose accomplishments have become the source of modern legend, will be the commencement speaker at Michigan Tech on June 5.

The college will grant 233 bachelor of science and advanced degrees at that time in 15 fields of engineering and science, according to Dr. Grover C. Dillman, college president.

President and chairman of the board of Algoma Steel Corporation, Sir James is also chairman of the board of the Canada Steamship Lines. His career began in 1898 when he graduated from Dalhousie University law school in Canada. By the time World War I had broken out he had organized his own banking house in England.

In 1932 he became interested in the Algoma Steel Corporation, which was facing bankruptcy. By 1935, after obtaining a controlling interest in the firm, he became an industrialist and expanded the company's operation until it now produces more than one third of Canada's total steel.

His home now is in St. Andrews, New Brunswick, and his offices are in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario.

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M. (AP)—The gals' looks may fool you, but now the hard—and sometimes disarming—facts are there to check. New security badges, which must be worn at all times on this rocket development base, now give their age and weight.

GUNS DON'T INTEREST HIM ANY MORE — Gen. John Salling, one of three surviving veterans of the Confederate Army, seems more interested in the camera than in little George

Higher Cadillac Television Tower Now In Operation

CADILLAC — Michigan's tallest television tower—a 1,282-foot steel giant—is now serving station WWTW's viewers from Grand Rapids and Bay City-Saginaw to the Straits of Mackinac.

Located at the highest point in Michigan's Lower Peninsula, the 200-ton tower reaches 2,985 feet above sea level. The point of land on which it is situated is 1,705 feet above sea level.

The steel structure is the second tallest television tower in the United States and is the third tallest man-made object in the world, according to David F. Milligan, general manager of WWTW.

It is exceeded in height only by a television tower in Oklahoma City and New York City's Empire State Bldg., with its crown of broadcasting antennas.

The new tower replaces a 530-foot structure which has been used by WWTW since the Channel 13 station went on the air Jan. 1, 1954. The added tower height, plus an increase in power to 104,000 watts, projects WWTW's signal into all or part of 42 Michigan counties in the Lower Peninsula. Useable reception is also predicted by engineers for parts of the Upper Peninsula and northeastern Wisconsin.

Michigan Ranks High In Airplane Pilots

WASHINGTON (AP)—California has twice as many active airplane pilots as any other state, the Civil Aeronautics Administration said.

Texas is in second place, with 20,202 against California's total of 40,707.

The other state totals of active pilots include:

Illinois, 17,685; Michigan, 12,537

and Indiana, 8,930.

Savings Of Americans Drop Off 100 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Individual Americans saved $11,700,000,000 last year while increasing their mortgage debts by a record-breaking $8,600,000,000, the Securities and Exchange Commission reported.

The savings total was about one hundred million dollars less than in 1953.

The $8,600,000,000 rise in mortgage debt was about 20 per cent higher than the 1953 increase. The SEC attributed the increase to high rates of home construction. Other debt, including the financing of consumer purchases, rose by less than $400,000,000 in contrast to an increase eight times as great in 1953.

Utilities In Michigan To Pay 10.6 Per Cent More Taxes This Year

LANSING (AP)—Michigan public utilities assessed by the State Board of Assessors will pay 10.6 per cent more taxes this year.

The board reported it had assessed these companies at a record $563,887,700 and set the average tax rate at $29.69.

The combination of the two, which determines how much the utilities shall pay into the primary school fund in lieu of property taxes, will take $16,742,572 from the companies.

The assessment is up 5 per cent and the tax rate of $29.69 compares with $28.20 last year.

Gladstone Bluff Is Blackened By Fire

Whipped by high winds, fire swept across six and one-half acres on the jack pine covered bluff west of Gladstone yesterday afternoon, causing some damage and for a time threatening buildings in the area.

Three Michigan Bell Telephone Company poles were burned off and had to be replaced by emergency crews. For a time the fire raged spectacularly through the tops of the jack pines.

A harpooned sperm whale charged and sank the American bark Kathleen in 1902. The ship went down in five minutes, says the National Geographic Society, and all hands survived, although nine whalemen had to row 1,060 miles before reaching safety.

Navy Plant Near End Of Rope

AP Newsfeatures
BOSTON—Time is running out at the Boston Naval Shipyard ropewalk.

It has made enough rope to bind the earth at the equator 100 times since it was established by Congress in 1834. It's the only rope-producing plant ever operated by the Navy, and its entire output has gone exclusively to the Navy.

The ropewalk's death warrant has been signed in Washington, execution date Aug. 1.

The administration has decreed, over loud protests of congressmen, that the Navy obtain its cordage from private industry.

The decision is tragic for families of 71 employees, who know no other trade. Most are war veterans, with long service in the ropewalk. Ten per cent are war-disabled.

Supervisor William J. Kaes has worked there 27 years, preceded by his father and grandfather. Louis Porter, 55, with 35 years service, ruefully considers himself "too young for a pension; too old for a new job."

Despite his 19 years service, David Himmelfarb, the Navy's last master ropemaker and boss of the Navy's last ropewalk, is chiefly concerned for his fellow employees and for welfare of the Navy.

"We turn out less than 2 per cent of the country's rope", he says, "so I can't see how it can have much impact on private industry. On the other hand, it's too late for most of these people to pick up other trades. And if the Navy needs them again, where will you find them? You can't manpower and skills." In Himmelfarb's opinion, one of the ropewalk's greatest values has been the testing, experimentation and research, including adaptation of synthetics. He did not mention it, but fellow workers said Himmelfarb developed a preservative which adds 25 per cent to life of rope.

Ropewalks were so named in the days when length of cordage was limited to length of a building, because it was necessary for a man to walk away, backward, with a piece of rope as it was fabricated. The shipyard's ropewalk is a quarter of a mile long, but machinery long ago outmoded the ancient method and theoretically there now is no length limitation.

Raw material enters one end of the long building as bales of hemp. Most of it comes from the Philippines; some from central America.

Immediately begins sorting and combing, then fine spinning or twisting of the long, gleaming fibers into yarn and strands. From these, cordage up to the size of great towing and mooring hawsers are fashioned.

Much of more than 2½ million miles of cordage produced by the ropewalk—the figures are Himmelfarb's—actually has gone around the world, not to bundle up the old earth, but as equipment on the nation's warships.

Although cordage has been popularly associated with sailing vessels, in World War II a 27,000-

Consumers Power Pay Raise Urged

LANSING (AP) — A special fact-finding panel has recommended employees of the Consumers Power Co. receive a pay raise of seven to nine cents an hour.

The panel, appointed by Gov. Williams to halt a strike of employees, also recommended complicated improvements in the company pension plan and other fringe benefits.

The pay raise proposed by the panel would be retroactive to March 1, the end of the previous contract between the company and the CIO Utility Workers.

Chairman George W. Bowles of the State Labor Mediation Board said he would schedule a conference between management and the union early next week to discuss the panel's recommendations.

CAN YOU BEAT IT? — Oma Hogue tests the tone of a giant drum, six feet in diameter, which was made in Chicago for Harvard University's marching band. It took only two weeks to make, but six weeks to find suitable cowhides for the heads of the drum, which must be in one piece.

Why scrap free competition?

Competition Serves Consumers Best

In the production of Natural Gas or any other product

Millions of homes like yours have natural gas because more than 8,000 producers compete at great financial risk to find it and get it from the ground. The producers also compete to sell it to the pipelines who bring it to your local gas company.

Now, over the opposition of responsible groups and authorities, Federal price-fixing threatens your long-term gas supply and the very principle of free competitive production.

Read what these representative groups and individuals say:

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

JEROME K. KUYKENDALL, CHAIRMAN

"We believe that no sound fuel policy can be erected upon such discrimination as presently exists against natural gas and in favor of other competitive fuels . . . Congress should not single out natural gas as the only one among those fuels over which an artificial ceiling should be placed." March 22, 1955.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON ENERGY SUPPLIES AND RESOURCES POLICY

"In the interest of a sound fuel policy and the protection of the national defense and consumer interests . . . we believe the Federal Government should not control the production, gathering, processing or sale of natural gas prior to its entry into an interstate transmission line." February 26, 1955.

DETROIT BOARD OF COMMERCE

"The price structure (of the gathering and production of natural gas) has always been and will continue to be controlled by the acute competition prevailing in this phase of supplying natural gas for consumer use." April 5, 1955.

AMERICAN NATIONAL CATTLEMEN'S ASSOCIATION

"Gas is an important product of ranch and farm land. This decision . . . may well be the beginning of laws to regulate all industries in this country, including the livestock industry." January 12, 1955.

AMERICAN FARM BUREAU FEDERATION

"Since the field price of natural gas is adequately regulated by competition we favor legislation providing that field prices of natural gas shall not be regulated by the Federal Power Commission." December 16, 1954.

LEAGUE OF KANSAS MUNICIPALITIES

"The regulation by the Federal Government of the price of gas sold by independent producers and gatherers is contrary to the public interest including the interests of consumers in the municipalities who are members of this League." December 16, 1954.

BABY TALK BATTLE

BOSTON (AP)—It's okay to use an occasional "itsy bitsy coo" on your baby, says Dr. James Marvin Batsy, professor of pediatrics at Tufts College Medical School and chief physician at Boston Floating Hospital.

A little motherly clucking, the doctor says, is good for the mental and emotional well being of infants despite austere practices recommended by some authorities.

WRINKLE RESISTANT FABRICS

Here are a few words to the wise on wrinkle resistant fabrics.

Always ask the merchant if the particular wrinkle resistant fabric you're buying will withstand cleaning, or look for the label "Guaranteed Cleanable".

With these assurances you can be certain the fabric will withstand cleaning.

But, if you don't get these assurances, then you may be certain that the "non-wrinkling" feature is just a temporary affair. Therefore, you'll have to have the garment resized every time it's cleaned. That means a few cents more for extra handling and materials.

Here are two fabrics which are particularly subject to bad wrinkling which you should be forewarned about, especially since both of them are usually regarded as being quite wrinkle resistant.

1. WOOL GABARDINES. Especially the better grades. Often wool gabardine acquires permanent wrinkles or "breaks" in the fabric which cannot be removed. Due to faulty manufacture at the textile mill. No remedy, alas.

2. NYLON. Popularly regarded as quite wrinkle proof, nylon actually assimilates permanent wrinkles. If a crease is pressed in during wear or ironing or other processing, it is then virtually impossible to remove it. Only remedy, as with wool gabardines, is prevention.

Have winter clothes cleaned now and put away for summer!

Three Turtles Are Among Possessions
Of First Graders

The 73 first graders of the Manistique public school system have a number of class projects and possessions which they proudly show visitors, but three turtles in the Lakeside school head the list.

Riverside students have made a collection of leaves, plants and other natural foliage which they observe, and these students now are making plans for a "field trip."

First graders in Manistique also are making activity posters, which at present depict circuses, summer vacations and outdoor fun.

Emphasis in the first grade, school officials here explain, is on reading. Books which they now are using include "Fun with Dick and Jane," "Our New Friends," "The Ranch Book," "Outdoor Land," "I Know a Secret" and "Through the Day."

In addition to reading, the youngsters color, make posters, and write in work-books. In past weeks, some of the youngsters also have been in rehearsal for a grade school operetta.

Riverside has nine first graders taught by Mrs. Evelyn Magoon; Lakeside 10 taught by Mrs. Ione M. Males; Central, 20, with Miss Effie Carrington as instructor, and Lincoln, 34, with Mrs. Cora Guidebeck as the teacher. Lincoln is the only public grade school here in which first graders are in a separate class.

Thugs End Dream
Of Trip To Italy

NEW YORK (AP) — The 20-year dream of a trip to her native Italy has become a nightmare for Mrs. Rose Colavito.

She and her husband, Mike, saved meagre sums over the years while they raised their seven children. Recently reaching a total of $3,000, the couple decided to fly to Italy July 6.

Friday 55-year-old Mrs. Colavito took the money out of the bank to buy plane tickets and get ready for the trip.

Near her Brooklyn home two young thugs robbed her, beat her and slashed her arm with a knife.

Sohlberg Leaves
Thursday For Trip
By Air To Sweden

A. Theodore Sohlberg, local justice of the peace and insurance man, is leaving here Thursday for a long-planned vacation in Sweden. He will go to Chicago from Gladstone and Saturday will take a plane for Europe.

He also hopes to visit many places of historic interest, particularly those relating to the background of the Swedish migration to America.

Mr. Sohlberg will be away about 3 months.

There seems to be no doubt as to who is the swiftest dashman in Upper Peninsula high school track circles. Marquette's Kaye Vandebloom has been running the century around 10.5 most of the season and in the regional meet at Marquette Saturday he dipped down to 10.1, fastest official time in the U. P. in quite a few years. If he can come anywhere near that in the U. P. finals next week he will easily erase the existing class B record of 10.4, shared by Ken Hoyer of Stephenson (1950), Robert MacDonald of Newberry (1950) and Walter Olson of Ironwood (1946).

Vandebloom's 10.1 time for the hundred is quite remarkable, when you consider the very few dashmen who ever get down around 10 seconds in the Upper Peninsula. Menominee has had a few 10-second men in recent years and Iron River had one in Eddie Sloden back about 1940, but there haven't been many others that could actually step the century in 10 seconds. That seems to be the most elusive creature in existence—you hear a lot about 10-second men but you very seldom see them.

Vandebloom is just one of many outstanding track athletes operating in the Upper Peninsula this season. The cream of the crop will be here in the U. P. finals Saturday. If the weather is right and the track good, watch for a number of Peninsula standards to fall. Rapid River, right in our own back yard, may produce a couple of new records if the hurdlers and 440 racers are at peak form. Stephenson also has a couple of standouts who may rewrite the record book.

Escanaba's Con Prokos has been showing steady improvement in his 440 races this season. Prokos has clipped seconds off his original time at the beginning of the season and Saturday at Menominee he ran his finest race of the season, chasing Stephenson's strong Tom Kakuk down the stretch to make a close race of it. And Escanaba's two freshmen performers, Bob Douglas and Mike Mileski, showed great promise by qualifying in the hurdles right behind big Dick LeRoy of Stephenson.

Emeralds Qualify Eight For U. P. Track Finals

SAULT STE. MARIE—The Manistique Emeralds, paced by sprinter Mike Farley and Ken Dixon, finished second to the host Soo Blue Devils in the regional track meet here Saturday. Eight Emeralds qualified for the Upper Peninsula Class B finals event to be held at Escanaba May 21.

Farley was a double winner, coping first in the 100-yard dash and the 220 sprint. He copped the century in 11.05 and the 220 in 24.7. Dixon won the 440 in 56.6.

Soo won the meet with 45 points while Manistique and Newberry tied for runnerup with 39½ each.

Stephenson, Rapid River Win Regional Track Meet

By RAY CRANDALL

MENOMINEE—Stephenson and Rapid River tuned up for the climatic Upper Peninsula finals track meet to be held at Escanaba May 21 by scoring easy victories in the regional meet staged here Saturday.

Coach Francis Cappaert's Stephenson Eagles turned back a bid by the Menominee Maroons to win handily in Class B with 76 5/6 points. Menominee was second with 50½, Escanaba third with 22 1/3 and Holy Name fourth with 4 1/3.

Coach Roger Carlson's talented Rapid River Rockets had an even wider margin of victory in Class D-E, scoring 74 1/3 points to 35 for Nahma and 31 2/3 for Cooks.

LeRoy, Visuri Star

The Eagles grabbed eight firsts and picked up points in every event in the day-long meet. Lanky Dick LeRoy and swift Bob Visuri set the pace for the Eagles. LeRoy galloped to first in the high and low hurdles and was second in the high jump. Visuri sped to victory in the 100 and 220 dashes. His time for the century was a fast 10.5.

Stephenson had double winners in the 440 yard dash. Tom Kakuk powered to a 55.5 victory in the first section and Carl Dougovito won the second section in 57. Escanaba's Con Prokos ran a close second to Kakuk in the first section.

Rapid River won nine firsts and was led by a trio of stars. Wayne Christoff copped the shot put and high jump, finished second in the high hurdles and third in the low hurdles. Pete Wolf won the 220, tied for first with Ken Harwood in the pole vault, placed second in the broad jump and ran on the winning half-mile relay team. Harwood raced to victory in the 440, tied for first in the vault and was a member of the relay team.

Eskymo Qualifiers

In addition to Prokos, Escanaba athletes who qualified for the U. P. finals event were freshmen Bob Douglas and Mike Mileski in the low and high hurdles, respectively. Steve Douglas in the low, Bob Dahvik in the 440, Dave Judson in the shot put and the 880 relay team composed of Boy Hay, Garry Gillespie, Steve Douglas and Don Dahlin.

One of the best duels of the day came in the Class B half-mile where Menominee's Pete Tessier, defending U. P. champion, outran Stephenson's Jerry Martin. Martin's kick at the finish failed to catch the Maroon middle-distance ace.

Holy Name's Lloyd Peltier earned a berth in the finals by placing third in the Class B mile, won by Bob Kuntze of Stephenson.

Bernard Newhouse of Nahma was one of the standouts in the meet. He leaped 19 feet to take first in the broad jump and ran a 21.9 low hurdles to nip a pair of Rapid River stars for first place. He also placed second in the high jump.

Steve Johnson of Rapid River turned in an excellent time in the half-mile, winning the event in a hard run against Dick Beaudre of Cooks in 2:11.4.

Undefeated Marciano Puts Heavyweight Crown On Line

By BOB MYERS

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Undefeated Rocky Marciano puts his treasured world heavyweight title on the line for the fifth time tonight and practically no one thinks that challenger Don Cockell of England will take it away from the blockbuster from Brockton, Mass.

The 30-year-old old champion has never been beaten in his 47 fights, dating back to his ring debut in July 1948, and the betting people are laying 8-1 that Rocky will run the incredible string to 48.

Few, indeed, give the pudgy, 26-year-old hog farmer from Horam much of a chance to last the full 15 rounds.

Marciano's blasting fists, they believe, will make the British Empire titleholder No. 42 on the Rock's kayo record.

The scrap will take place in San Francisco's largest football arena, Kezar Stadium.

NBC will broadcast at 9 p.m. CST.

There will be no home television. It will be televised on a closed circuit for screening in 83 theaters in 59 cities.

Promoters Jimmy Murry and Lou Thomas, in conjunction with the International Boxing Club, remained hopeful that 40,000 fans will pay $400,000 for seats scaled from $40 to $5.

Less optimistic observers looked for a turnout of 30,000 and gate receipts approaching $300,000.

Rocky Weighs 189

Marciano weighed 189 pounds when he wound up training—with a total of 210 rounds—two days ago at his camp 75 miles north of here at Calistoga.

Cockell, at suburban San Rafael, after 268 rounds of boxing and many long hours of similar labors, was down to 207.

Marciano, who won the championship with a 13-round knockout over Jersey Joe Walcott Sept. 23, 1952, in Philadelphia, has looked great in his workouts.

The key question about the durable Rocky, however, is his nose. Sliced badly on the tip itself in the second Ezzard Charles fight last Sept. 17 in New York, the nose was given a plastic surgery repair job.

The champion and his manager, Al Weill believe the nose will stand up under Cockell's punches. But no one really knows for certain because actually the nose has not been given a real belt. A special protective mask was devised to protect it against his sparring mates' blows.

Round-belly Don has fought 72 times. He has won 61, 36 by knockout, and he has been stopped five times.

The main blot on Cockell's record, is the technical knockout he suffered at the hands of Randy Turpin June 10, 1952. Turpin had Cockell down three times and the fight was stopped in the 11th round.

Phil's End Losing Streak By Splitting With Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Philadelphia Phils ended their 13-game losing streak behind the seven-hit pitching of Robin Roberts Sunday with a 9-1 victory over Milwaukee in the nightcap of a twin bill. Ed Mathews' two consecutive homers led the Braves to a 6-5 triumph in the opener. Mathews' four-baggers were good for four runs.

Despite Mathews' pair of four base blows—his fifth and sixth of the season—the Braves had to rally for two runs in the eighth to win. Del Crandall's single provided the deciding tally.

It wasn't lack of hits which bothered the Phils in the opener. They got 13 off four Milwaukee hurlers and seven walks but left 15 runners stranded.

The Phils clubbed five hurlers for 14 hits in the finale and settled the outcome with a six-run spurt in the third inning. Starter Chet Nichols gave up four of those runs and suffered his first loss after three triumphs. Lew Burdette, who was chased early in the opener, came back in to relieve Nichols and was tagged for the other two runs before he left for the second time.

With the bases loaded in that big third inning, the first Philadelphia run scored while Mathews was throwing out Del Ennis.

Richie Ashburn's single scored one run in the seventh and the Phils wrapped it up with a pair in the ninth as Roberts doubled, Ashburn tripled and Peanuts Lowrey singled.

The Phil's stranded 14 men in the nightcap as Roberts made his slate 4-3.

First Game

Milwaukee 000 130 026—6 8 1

Tigers Hold Fast To First Division Spot

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

Every day in every way Detroit's Harvey Kuenn is proving he not only is the American League's outstanding shortstop but also one of the best young hitters in baseball.

With the possible exception of outfielder Al Kaline, who suddenly burst into prominence among the power hitters of the circuit, Kuenn has been the big force in the Tigers' surprise showing in the first five weeks of the campaign.

The $55,000 bonus beauty was the Tigers' big hitter Sunday as the fourth-placers divided a doubleheader with Boston and stayed within 4½ games of the league-leading Cleveland Indians. Kuenn got three hits in the first game, won by Boston 10-4, and four in the second, won by Detroit 9-4. He scored three times, drove in two and boosted his batting mark to a runner-up .388.

White Sox Creep Up

Chicago's White Sox moved to within one game of the Indians with a 3-0 and 5-4 doubleheader victory over Washington. Bobby Shantz pitched a six-hitter as Kansas City downed New York 4-3 in the first game and Bob Turley struck out 12 as the Yankees won the second 8-4. Mike Garcia hurled a seven-hit 5-0 shutout to give Cleveland a split after Jim Wilson surprised the Indians by pitching the Orioles to a 4-1 victory over Bob Lemon.

There was little change in the National League picture as six teams split three double-headers. In the lone single game, St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 5-1. Cincinnati routed Karl Spooner and Brooklyn 11-4 after the Dodgers had won the opener 7-1 for their 25th victory in 29 games. Sal Maglie pitched the second-place New York Giants to a 9-4 triumph after the Chicago Cubs had captured the opener 5-2. Philadelphia snapped a 13-game losing streak as Robin Roberts whipped Milwaukee 9-1.

Kuenn Is Bat Star In Detroit's Fast Start

DETROIT (AP)—It hardly takes an expert to point out that the big bat of Harvey Kuenn figures as a vital factor in helping the Detroit Tigers within catching distance of the American League's "Big Three" in the race for the 1955 pennant.

The husky Tiger shortstop, a 300-plus batter during all three of his seasons with Detroit, in recent games has connected for hits with a regularity little short of astonishing.

In a doubleheader at Boston Sunday, Kuenn stepped to the plate 11 times and collected seven hits, two of them good for two bases. The performance shoved his batting average for the season to .388, best in the league for players with more than 100 times at bat. He also surged ahead of teammate Al Kaline, now ensconced in the AL runner-up spot, with a .375 average. Kaline picked up three hits in eight tries in yesterday's play.

Collects 25 Hits

Detroit blasted Boston hurlers for 36 hits in the two contests, but Boston rolled over the Tigers, 10-4 in the opener before succumbing, 9-3, in the nightcap, before 28,752 Fenway Park fans.

Tigers rookie righthander Duke Maas was working on a shutout in second game before Eddie Joost, Boston shortstop, slammed a three-run homer in the eighth. Maas pulled out of two danger spots early in the game to rack up his second triumph of the season, both against Boston.

Larry Takes Loss

Two five-run innings spelled defeat for the Tigers in the first game and gave Frank Sullivan his fourth victory, although he gave up 10 hits. Larry Klauss got a double, two singles and a walk to drive across two runs. Marry Aganias, Sox first sacker, whacked a bases-loaded triple and a double.

Young Frank Lary was tabbed for the Detroit loss allowing eight hits before he was removed in the fourth for Frank Cristante, who went in to choke off Boston's first five-run rally. Cristante held on until he left for the game for a pinch hitter in the seventh as Detroit scored two runs and closed the gap to 5-4.

Take Quick Lead

In the next inning Boston erupted again for five runs against Vanoie Fletcher to put the game on ice.

The Tigers waited little time in sending boxer hurler Tom Brewer to his sixth straight loss. Consecutive singles by Kaline, Ferris Fain, Ray Boone and Jim Delsing plus a wild pitch and a walk put the Tigers ahead 3-0 in the first inning. Detroit added one each in the third and fourth to drive out Brewer.

Detroit, with the rest of the American League outfits, is idle today. The Tigers will be in Baltimore for games with the last place Orioles Tuesday and Wednesday.

but not before the Braves had come from behind to nip the Phillies 6-5 in the opener.

New Mound Star

The White Sox have discovered a new pitching star in Dick Donovan in their drive to overtake the Indians. The 27-year-old right-hander pitched his third shutout and his fourth victory with a three-hitter against Washington. Donovan, who had an 18-8 record at Atlanta after failures with Milwaukee and Detroit, has allowed only one run in his last 31 innings. George Kell's ninth-inning double off loser Bob Porterfield broke up the second game and gave unbeaten Sandy Consuegra his third victory in a relief role.

In Baltimore, Wilson, the ex-Brave, limited the Indians to two hits in seven innings before they finally scored.

Shantz, making a strong comeback, pitched his third victory of the season. The 5-6½ lefty, staked to a 4-0 first-inning lead featured by Bill Wilson's three-run homer, blanked the Yanks on two hits until the sixth.

Mueller Ties Record

The Phillies missed equaling their longest losing streak by one when Roberts limited the Braves to seven hits to halt a 13-game losing streak. A six-run third-inning assured Robin of his fourth triumph, almost half of Philadelphia's nine victories.

Eddie Mathews slammed two homers, good for four runs, but it was Del Crandall's single that provided the Braves' winning run in the eighth inning of the opener.

Don Mueller's pinch hit single in the Giants' six-run winning rally in the nightcap enabled him to equal the New York club record of 24 consecutive hitting games set by Freddy Lindstrom in 1930. Sal Maglie went all the way for his third victory after the Cubs' Warren Hacker outpitched Jim Hearn in the opener.

A three-hitter by Gordon Jones, his first victory of the season, and a two-run double by Wally Moon highlighted the Cards' second straight victory over the Pirates.

Minnesota Eyes Rare Big Ten Championship

CHICAGO (AP)—Minnesota hits the road this weekend for three Big Ten games eager to return home with its first conference baseball title in 20 years.

The fast-moving Gophers grabbed their eighth and ninth victories against three losses Saturday by dumping Indiana into the cellar, 3-0 and 6-4.

The victories moved Minnesota a full game ahead of defending champion Michigan State and 1½ games ahead of Ohio State.

Minnesota battles Wisconsin Friday and moves into Evanston, Ill., Saturday for a doubleheader against Northwestern.

While the Gophers are engaging second-division opponents, Ohio

State and Michigan State meet at Columbus Friday. The Buckeyes then take on Michigan for two games Saturday and Michigan State goes to Indiana for two.

Michigan, after sharing the lead with Minnesota all spring, virtually dropped out of contention by losing two games to Michigan State, 8-5, and 4-3.

Iowa dealt Ohio State's hopes a severe blow by shacking the Buckeyes, 10-0, behind Ron Schaeffer's one-hitter after Ohio State had taken the opener, 7-5.

Illinois moved into the first division with a double triumph over Northwestern, 3-1 and 5-4, and Wisconsin and Purdue split with the Badgers winning the opener 12-1 and dropping the second game, 6-2.

Games Friday:
Illinois at Purdue.
Michigan at Indiana.
Iowa at Northwestern.
Michigan State at Ohio State.
Minnesota at Wisconsin.

Stumm Winner At Golf Club

Bob Stumm won the first Escanaba Golf Club event, a substitute par for six worst holes, Saturday with a net 68, edging out Harry Needham who registered a 69.

Low gross honors in the tourney went to Tony Cass who fired 41-34-75. His 34 represents the best nine holes shot at the club this season.

Other low gross scores were turned in by Harry Hogan, 39-37-76, and Elmer Swanson, 39-37-78.

On Sunday Hogan posted the best 18-hole score of the season, firing a par 72 on rounds of 37 and 35.

The course drew heavy play over the weekend, in spite of high winds Sunday afternoon.

Wisconsin Man Finds $40,000

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (P)—A 30-year-old laborer turned over to authorities $40,000 he said he found May 2. At the same time he took steps to have himself declared its owner.

Albert W. Sorenson, father of two children, handed his find over to State's Atty. Robert C. Nelson. Sorenson, of Antioch, reported he found it "somewhere in Waukegan."

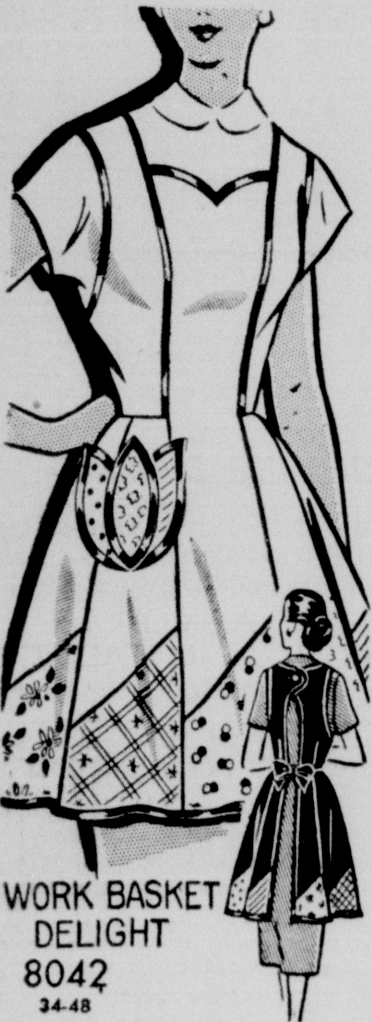

Nelson withheld details of how the cash was found and its condition to head off any false claims of ownership. Sorenson said it appeared "hidden for a substantial period of time" and that he found it "outside" and "away from" any building.

The laborer said that after he found the money he took it home to his wife. They consulted an attorney and then took it to Nelson. Sorenson, who lives in a modest home he is buying, may claim the cash as his if other ownership is not established within a year of its discovery.

The state's attorney said the money may be lost from a robbery or some other crime.

Fellow Cops Save Sick Officer's Job

DES MOINES (P)—Des Moines policemen plan to work on their days off for fellow officer William J. Pierce, a polio patient.

Pierce, married and the father of three children, was to be dropped from the police department payroll Sunday. He had used up all his sick leave, vacation time and a special 60-day leave.

Patrolman C. M. Leaming informed the stricken policeman Friday that 52 officers had agreed to work their day off without pay so that Pierce could continue receive his salary.

Hospitalized since Dec. 30, Pierce said he hoped to be back on the job in another month.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By Josephine Culbertson

THE "GOLD-BRICK" PLAY

THE BRIDGE novice's basic and unchangeable philosophy, which is to win tricks at all times as cheaply as possible, would not have worked out well in the following deal.

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

♠ Q J 10 7
♥ K J 3
♦ K 6 5 2
♣ 4 3

♠ 9 4 3 2
♥ 9 6 5 2
♦ Q 9 8 4

♠ K 8 6
♥ A Q 8 4
♦ J 7 3
♣ 10 9 6

The bidding:
South West North East
1♣ Pass 1♠ Pass
4NT Pass 5♣ Pass
Pass Pass

South jumped to four notrump over North's spade response because he felt that there would be a play for the slam if North announced an ace, and if North had to deny the ace by bidding five clubs, South would of course stop at that contract. This idea of South's, however, was not nearly as sound as it might have been.

Distributed by King Features Syndicate

and instead of landing in a nice, easy three-notrump game contract, South had to hope for the best at his eleven-trick minor-suit contract.

It was a virtual toss-up what West should lead, a diamond or a heart, and fortunately for his own side, he happened to choose the deuce of hearts.

It was this lead that gave East the opportunity for an excellent hoax. After the merest glance at dummy (but of course with a lightning calculation of what South must hold), East played the heart ace, not the queen, and then (again without hesitation) he returned a low spade.

South reacted precisely as any other declarer would in this situation. Why risk the spade finesse, with the possibility that East could ruff a spade return, when there was such a "safe parking spot" for South's low spade on dummy's third heart? So South put up the spade ace, drew trumps and confidently took the "proved" heart finesse to dummy's jack.

Perhaps East's most creditable performance in this deal was his repression of a snicker as he captured dummy's heart jack with the queen and laid down the spade king to set the contract.

HOODED TROUBLE

LOWELL, Mass. (P)—When the hood of Joseph E. Dowling's car accidentally opened and obstructed his view the machine struck a tree, veered across the street into a picket fence, crashed into two cars, and then burst into flames. Dowling crawled out uninjured.

Carpet-Cleaning Discovery Hailed

What is said to be the "easiest and cleanest" home rug cleaner known as Blue Lustre is now available. It is the development of years of research.

Blue Lustre leaves no foreign residue in the nap after cleaning. The pile is left open and fluffy and the colors are restored to original brilliance as if by magic. All this plus the fact that it's easy to apply and safe for the finest fabrics makes Blue Lustre the answer to the wall to wall carpet cleaning problem.

Blue Lustre is a concentrate and inexpensive to use. A half gallon will clean three 9 x 12 rugs.
